Three Main Themes in the Healing Ministry:

Moment-by-moment faith – 1

'For the earth bringeth forth fruit of herself; first the blade, then the ear, after that the full corn in the ear.'
— Mark 4:28 (KJV)

Scripture reading: Isaiah 43:1-7

Let me begin by saying that the first principle of prayer is, I believe, to know the promises of God. That is what the New Testament is all about—the great and precious promises that God has made. The promises of God reveal the will of God, and the first thing to know is what God wants us to have.

The second principle of prayer is that we are to believe we have received the promises of God so that we do not doubt. Jesus said: "I tell you the truth, if anyone says to this mountain, 'Go, throw yourself into the sea,' and does not doubt in his heart but believes that what he says will happen, it will be done for him." (Mark 11:23).

Once you know the promises of God as revealed in the broad themes of the New Testament, and once you are believing that you have received these things so that you do not doubt in your heart, there is the need for ongoing, moment-by-moment faith. I never tire of saying that when I accepted the promise of salvation and by faith believed on Christ, nothing happened. So I went back to my rector and said, 'Rector, it's not working', and he said to me, 'You have to have moment-by-moment faith'. I remember how I went away and disciplined my mind by affirming God's blessing in my life in a moment-by-moment way.

Key thought: We need to discipline our minds until we have developed a moment-by-moment faith.

Loving Father, your promises are ours by faith. We would discipline our minds to appropriate all your blessing this day, in a moment-by-moment way. In Jesus' name. Amen.
